Mission
The College of Education and Human Development at Texas A&M University–Corpus Christi, devoted to excellence in instruction, research, and service, prepares leaders representing diverse backgrounds and experiences, to serve the educational needs in the global community.

Catalog Subject To Change
Our programs may be required to respond to inter-catalog edition mandates for curricular and or policy changes required by outside accreditation, licensing and certification requirements. Required timelines for these responses may not allow for standard college and university based review process. In such cases, programs will publish and disseminate information about changes on website and current student handbook addenda. Examples include Texas Education Agency (TEA), Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (THECB), Council for Accreditation of Counseling & Related Educational Programs (CACREP) and the Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education (CAATE).

College of Education and Human Development Graduate Policies and Regulations
In addition to the University’s graduate policies and requirements in the general section of the catalog, the College of Education and Human Development has the following policies and regulations.

Graduate Admission to the College of Education and Human Development
Applicants are eligible to pursue master- or doctoral-level course work in the COEHD if they meet the following conditions.

1. All applicants must meet the general graduate admission requirements of the University.
2. Applicants must have a minimum undergraduate GPA of 3.00 and a graduate GPA of 3.00 on the last 60 semester credit hours of undergraduate work and any previous work in graduate school.
3. Applicants must complete the goals statement as required on the application form. The statement should be between 300 to 400 words, and should include information about their reasons for pursuing graduate study and for choosing a specific graduate program in the College of Education and Human Development. Other background information relevant to the application may be included. Applications will be evaluated by the appropriate faculty and/or advisor within the College of Education and Human Development.
4. Students who have submitted all required application documents, but who do not meet the minimum GPA of 3.00, may enroll in the degree program of their choice in a conditional status in courses approved by the chair of the department in which the applicant seeks admission. Students seeking initial certification with a Master of Science in Elementary or Secondary Education must have at least a 2.5 GPA to be considered for conditional admittance into the Educator Preparation Program. (See “Conditional Status” in the “Admission (http://catalog.tamucc.edu/graduate/admissions/)” section of the catalog.) Such students must achieve not less than a 3.00 GPA in the specified courses. After completing at least 6 semester credit hours with a GPA of not less than 3.00 at this University, applicants may continue the application process into a graduate program in the College of Education and Human Development. Graduate students on conditional status can normally take no more than 6 graduate hours per semester until the conditional status is removed. However, students admitted conditionally in the Department of Counseling

Supplemental Certificates:
- Bilingual Education (EC-6)
- English as a Second Language
- Gifted and Talented

Expanding Possibilities, Creating Solutions

and Educational Psychology may take 9 semester credit hours per semester with the approval of the Department and Athletic Training Program within the Kinesiology Department may take 10 semester credit hours per semester with the approval of the Program. If students fail to meet the conditions stipulated by the department to which they were conditionally admitted, they will be suspended from the College of Education and Human Development for at least one year. During this suspension, they cannot take any graduate courses in the College of Education and Human Development. After a year’s suspension, students may reapply for the program of their choice. No more than 9 semester hours of courses taken at this University or any other University while in this conditional status may be applied to this specific graduate degree at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi, except for Athletic Training which is allowed to take 10 credit hours.

Applicants for the counseling programs will have additional admission requirements. Please check with the Counseling Department for details.

Applicants for the doctoral programs in counselor education, curriculum and instruction, or educational leadership must meet all additional requirements for those programs as specified by the program. For doctoral application deadlines, see the catalog section for the appropriate doctoral program.

Applicants for the athletic training program will have additional admission requirements. Please check with the Kinesiology Department or Athletic Training Program for details.

Certification Plans and Master of Science Degree Plans
Prior to full or conditional acceptance into the College of Education and Human Development Graduate Program, students seeking initial certification and a Master of Science degree in Elementary Education or in Secondary Education must
