

EDUCATION, MINOR

Program Description

The College of Education and Human Development minor is designed to provide foundational and experiential knowledge of the pedagogy and professional responsibilities of teaching in grades 4-8 and 7-12. There are career avenues beyond the public or private PK-12 education setting for which integrated coursework in Education offers excellent preparation and opportunity. For example, College of Business graduates often require teaching and communication skills in the private and non-profit sectors of management and training. Others graduating with degrees in content areas like Mathematics, Chemistry, Physics, English or Sociology often seek graduate degrees in Education so that they may eventually become instructors in community colleges and professors at the university or college level. Persons who select the minor must declare the minor with a College of Education and Human Development academic advisor.

Undergraduates seeking a minor in Teacher Education may not qualify for the ASCENT program.

Program Requirements

The minor will consist of 18 hours in education. A minimum grade point average of 2.0 ("C") on a 4-point scale is required in all courses for successful completion of the minor. The minor will consist of the following course work:
