Required Program Reviews

Graphic Design Majors will undergo two formal portfolio and performance reviews. Students that intend to major in Design and meet all eligibility requirements for the reviews must participate. Students are eligible for the Lower Level Review (LL Review) after completing two specified GRDS foundational program courses. Lower and Upper Level Reviews occurs in Spring semesters only. Students who do not pass the Lower Level Review will not be able to register for sophomore level classes and will be advised to repeat one or both of the specified foundational courses. After passing the LL Review, all students intending to graduate with a BA in Graphic Design must pass the Upper-Level Admission Portfolio Review (UL Review) with the completion the specified GRDS program courses to be allowed to continue upper-level coursework in the program. Students will not be permitted to enroll in the remaining 3000 - 4000-level Graphic Design Degree Program courses until they have passed the UL Review and have been formally advised to advance. Students denied advancement into upper-level courses in the Graphic Design program after their first UL Review will be allowed only one additional attempt by resubmitting their revised portfolio for review.
Discerning advancement through the Graphic Design Degree Program ensures elevated professionalism of program graduates.

Transfer Credit:
Special arrangements will be made to review the work of students who have completed communication design or graphic design courses at other institutions to determine the appropriate entry level into the TAMU-CC program and award of transfer credit. All students, regardless of academic status, must be admitted into the Graphic Design Program through either the Lower Level Review or Upper Level Review.

Grade Minimums:
Graphic Design students must earn a "C" or higher in all major courses to remain in the program. If the student does not earn a "C" or higher in a major course, the student may be required to repeat the course or be removed from the Graphic Design Program. A student that earns a "D" or lower in major courses for two consecutive semesters will be removed from the Graphic Design Program.

Degree Matriculation Expedition or Exceptions:
The BA in Graphic Design degree is a 4-year, sequenced curriculum that cannot typically be expedited due to cohort capacities, program resources and course prerequisites. Requests for expediting the degree plan will be considered, but are not guaranteed to be granted. All requests must be approved by the Graphic Design Program Coordinator and Graphic Design Faculty. The GRDS Matriculation Exception Policy and Criteria is available upon request from the Program Coordinator.
