MEXICAN AMERICAN STUDIES, MINOR

Program Description
Mexican American Studies (also known as Chicano Studies) is a multidisciplinary concentration that exposes students to a wide range of topics relevant to the Mexican-American experience. This course of study offers students valuable insights and skills to complement most majors including Nursing, Business, Education, Social Sciences, Arts, and Humanities.

Minor
The Mexican American Studies Minor requires a minimum of 18 hours of designated coursework. Students who select this minor must consult with and have approval of the Mexican American Studies Coordinator or the Academic Advisor to establish a degree plan. This should be done prior to completing 6 semester hours of coursework listed for the program.

Student Learning Outcomes
1. Students have developed knowledge of major historical, political, literary, and artistic themes, topics, or concepts in Mexican American Studies. This includes demonstrating their awareness of Mexican American identities, language, civilization, and culture in the United States.

2. Students have been introduced to and worked with varieties of Spanish, English, and Indigenous languages that infuse the literature, art, politics, mythologies, and cultural values in the Mexican American tradition. This includes demonstrating awareness of the variety, complexity, and importance of multiple linguistic traditions and histories in shaping Mexican American identities, helping foster cultural insights and increase intercultural understanding.

Program Requirements:
To obtain a minor in Mexican American Studies, the student must complete the 18 semester hours required for the minor, 12 hours of which must be upper division courses. All courses are taught in English except for SPAN.
